June 15 David Travis: "Valuing Our Differences." David, President of our local NAACP chapter, will address how individual differences are valuable in work and business, our social lives and communities, and in religion.

June 22 Rev. Karen Day: "In Deep..." Think the world is in it up to its eyeballs? According to Bill McKibben in his new book, Deep Economy equals deep happiness. With local stories we'll explore what it takes, personally and together to tap the "wealth of communities for a durable future."

Fourth Sunday collection will support New River Community Action (Children's Summer Food Program). This program provides nutritious meals once a day for needy children. During summer months, while school is not in session and subsidized lunches are unavailable, these meals fill the gap.

June 29 Ellen Birx: "Zen in America." Ellen, a Zen teacher and nurse will focus on Zen as it is practiced here in the United States with an emphasis on meditation, lay practice, and gender equality. The mutual influence of Zen and psychology will also be discussed. We will conclude with brief meditation instructions and a few minutes of Zen meditation.

July 6 Rev. Christine Brownlie: "Gifts from General Assembly". This year's General Assembly promises to be verrrry interesting. There are big changes coming in youth programming, the campaign for President kicks off with two wonderful candidates having declared, and there are sure to be surprises to bring home and share. So come and help me unpack what I've learned and experienced!

July 13 Sixth Annual Poetry Slam. You are invited to share those words that have touched, moved, nurtured and inspired you. Readings may be original or the work of a favorite poet or writer. If you do not have a reading to share, come and listen to those readings that are so meaningful to others in the congregation. Contact John Imbur at 320-1985 or <john\_imbur@hotmail.com> with any questions you may have. There will be a sign-up sheet at the service.

July 20 Rev. Chip Roush, senior minister of the UU Congregation of Grand Traverse (Michigan): "Ripple: the Religious Humanism of the Grateful Dead." The lyrics and lifestyle of the Grateful Dead rock band, have inspired three generations (so far). The religious humanism of the band has a lot in common with Unitarian Universalism.

Jeff Wynn and Jim Kern, guitarists, will provide us with a selection of Grateful Dead songs throughout the service.
